DETAILED ACTION

1. The Amendment filed in Paper No. 12, May 28, 2003 has been received.

According to the Amendment, claim 34 has been amended. Currently, claims 1-40 are pending in this application. Acknowledgment has been made.

2. Claims 38-40 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 38, line 1, a colon ":" should replace the underscore symbol ( _ ) following the word "comprising". Note that, the colon is needed to clearly separate the preamble and the claimed limitations. Appropriate correction is required.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Olsen (6,217,448).

Olsen teaches a video gaming device and method for displaying multi-screen presentations comprising: a plurality of gaming devices (G), each gaming device being adapted to allow a player to play a wagering game, each gaming device being adapted to select a multi-screen presentation and transmit a request for a multi-screen presentation (Fig. 1); a plurality of video, each video display being adapted to display a video presentation, the video displays being positioned in close relative proximity to allow a video presentation to be displayed using the plurality of video displays, wherein the video presentation appears to be an integrated, multi-screen presentation (video display D1-Dn); the game device controller initiates a multi-screen presentation upon detecting a bonus event; a plurality of video displays controllers (video display controllers of gaming machines G) communicating with gaming device and video displays; master video display controller; controller is adapted to select a multi-screen video presentation from a plurality of different presentations; game device controller is adapted to select a bonus award and a multi-screen video presentation based on the output of a random number generator; a wagering device (G). See Figures 1-12 and columns 1-30.

5. Applicant's arguments filed in Paper No. 12, May 28, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument that Olsen does not provide an integrated, multi-screen presentation (page 17-19) is not convincing. The presented arguments pointing to general disclosure of Olsen reference but left out the critical teaching of his game invention wherein the potatoes C rotate around the machines' displays (Figure 1, and column 9, lines 3-46) in which the displays appear to be integrated, i.e., the potatoes "flying" around the displays from machine to machine in a single game.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

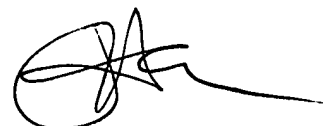

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
